Self-insurance was chosen by the Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night as the best way to provide workers' compensation, in combination with an excess insurance policy for multimillion-dollar awards.

The other alternative considered was to place worker's compensation insurance with the preferred risk program of the Illinois Insurance Commission.

Instead, School District Nine will self-insure itself and create a trust fund from which to meet obligations. The balance in the trust fund will draw interest. Amount and details of the trust fund will be determined at the board's June meeting, at which a law firm will be selected to represent the school system in legal matters pertaining to workers' compensation.

A $2 million excess insurance policy was approved with Safety Mutual Casualty Corp., St. Louis, whose subsidiary will help resolve claims for the school district.

"We also will investigate the possibility of obtaining compensation insurance on a retrospective plan," Supt. B. J. Davis said.

"At this time, insurance companies are reluctant to commit themselves to write a reinsurance plan, but several have

Madison business theme a success

The Alpine theme for the front of Madison Avenue stores and businesses is proving successful, board members of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce were told last night.

Now completing its second year with about 100 members, the Alpine program is expected to be expanded to more than 50 if partial federal funding can be secured, Madison City Comptroller Al Hudzik said.

Civic sales tax receipts indicate that the coordinated theme for the Madison Avenue business district, extending from 10th to 14th streets, is stimulating an increase in economic activity greater than the impact of inflation, Hudzik said.

Mayor Mike Sasyk and the speaker answered questions on the Alpine theme and said that a third annual "Alpine" day celebration is planned.

They credited the Madison businessmen's association with being instrumental in an effective liaison between merchants and municipal leaders.

Community Development funds have been utilized to prepare designs and specifications. The cost of specific storefront remodelings varies according to the size and complexity, the board was told.

President Roger Higgins, president and Chamber of Commerce vice-president, and President Billie Schuler secured approval for participation in a three-day craft fair.

2 satellite youth offices in jeopardy

Survival of the Madison Beach satellite offices of the Coordinated Youth Services will depend upon the willingness of local business agents to contribute to the project. Donald Patrick, coordinator of the satellite programs, has received approval of the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission of a $19,000 grant for the fourth year of the satellite program operation, the last year in which the ILEC will provide funds.

The program's fourth year will begin Aug. 1, but the ILEC funding for the project will provide only 33 percent of the $60,000 budget required to operate the two offices, Patrick said. When the program began three years ago, it was with the understanding that the state grant would decrease each year.

After the 1978-79 year which begins Aug. 1, there will be no more grant funds, Patrick explained. Since the grant for the fourth year amounts to $19,000, the project will require a balance of $40,915 to assure continued operation at the present level.

Commitments have been received from some local governmental bodies and funding requests are being negotiated with other governmental bodies, Patrick said.

The Madison-Venice area office operates on a total budget of $30,000 which covers the salaries for the office director, counselor, and referral specialist, rent, utilities and other emergency needs.

With ILEC funds of $9,542 for

How to finance major street improvements?

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer

A citywide street improvement program calling for repairs or replacement of sections of virtually every street in the city was presented to the Granite City Council Tuesday night by the City Engineering Department.

Cost of the overall program — with a supplemental report still to be completed — was estimated at $4,783,422.

Monroe Brewer, city engineer, said in presenting the street survey to council members that repairs are being prepared for 13 additional projects designated as "major streets" and that cost estimates on those projects are not included in the program received by the aldermen Tuesday night.

On a motion by Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward, the council placed the report on file and referred it to the public works committee which would have the job of finding money for any of the projects that might be undertaken during the city's current fiscal year. The city's 1978-79 budget is being prepared and must be completed by the end of next month.

At the same time, the council adopted on final passage a resolution approving a $100,000 minimum tax for the city's annual maintenance program for arterial streets.

50-BED PSYCHIATRIC WING of St. Elizabeth Hospital is seen Tuesday morning as masons brick the exterior walls of the building. The building appears to be a separate building in the hospital complex but actually is connected through an underground

Paramedics trained for service in GC

Six emergency medical technicians in Granite City's Alpine program are taking training as paramedics. City Council members were informed Tuesday night by Fire Chief Don Parente.

The men are being trained in a program at Wood River Township Hospital.

In addition, it was reported, one EMT already has completed paramedic training at St. Louis University, has taken his state exam and is awaiting the results.

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward noted that if the six trainees successfully complete the course and pass state requirements, Granite City will become the only municipally-operated ambulance service in this region to employ paramedics.

The training at Wood River Hospital include Arthur Asadian, David Bell, Michael Kelly, Jon Langenstein, James Monahan and David Worthen.

The course requires three

GC faculty to be 10 less than last fall

A teacher was hired and eight were re-hired Tuesday night by the Granite City Board of Education. Whether all receiving dismissal notices in March can be retained will depend on the number of summertime resignments and resignations, but overall the district expects to begin the 1978-79 year with ten fewer faculty members than in 1977-78.

The reduction of ten results from a budget squeeze and associated economy efforts, plus a continuing drop in the number of students.

The present staff size utilized will be adjusted according to the actual number of youngsters enrolling.

State aid levels to be enacted in the spring by the Illinois General Assembly remain uncertain, but all of the formulas involved in the debate have adverse overtones for Granite City Community Unit District One.

With assessment up a year ago and then lower than expected this summer, the one-year delay in the taxing process gives the schools here the worst possible fall-1978 impact from both taxation and state aid, Supt. Bob J. Davis has told the school board.

Frank Mirelc was hired as an industrial arts teacher at GCCHS South during Tuesday's board session.

Rehired without immediate tenure action was James R. Desoulin, South science teacher; and Melinda Rose Larson, GCCHS North home economics instructor.

The board rehired Lori House for the fall semester. She is a South mathematics teacher.

Tenure was extended to five who are being rehired—Warren Lee Jones, South mathematics; Ronald L. Coleman, elementary physical education; Pauline Bissell and Virginia Wyrostek, both English teachers at North High; and Sue Biggerstaff, North home economics.

Richard Wilson, 2259 Edison Ave., was employed Tuesday night as a custodian, as yet unassigned.

In a partial action on extracurricular assignments, with the next meeting the board named Mrs. Terry Papp as North's physical education department chairman; Harry Lang, North assistant athletic director; Tom Patterson, South High assistant athletic director; Merina Musterman, gifted student program coordinator; and Esther Vasileff, a second year junior-high/high school orchestra teacher.

ASSAULT REPORTED

Granite City police are investigating the allegations of a 19-year-old Granite City woman that she was assaulted by a man early Tuesday morning, following a party at her home. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 4 a.m. Tuesday.

Power lines pulled down, boy, 14, sought

Granite City police are attempting to locate a boy, about 14 years old who tied a rope to power lines and then to a pickup truck, so the driver of the truck inadvertently pulled the power wires down onto a car and damaging the auto at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

A witness said the boy tied a rope hanging from the power lines to the rear bumper of Niedringhaus Avenue to the rear bumper of the parked truck of John Monroe, 2248 Mirach Ave.

Monroe then came out of a building into his truck and started to drive away, unaware that the truck was pulling power lines down.

The wires then struck the parked car of Alan Bechel, Rosedale Heights, damaging the car in several areas before the wires actually melted onto the car.

The youth who caused the incident was described as about 14 years of age, weighing about 100 pounds, brown hair, wearing a tan or yellow shirt and carrying a newspaper delivery bag.

Chamber play day June 12

Many skill prizes are planned for the 22nd annual Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce "play day" Monday, June 12, at Sunbeam Hill Country Club.

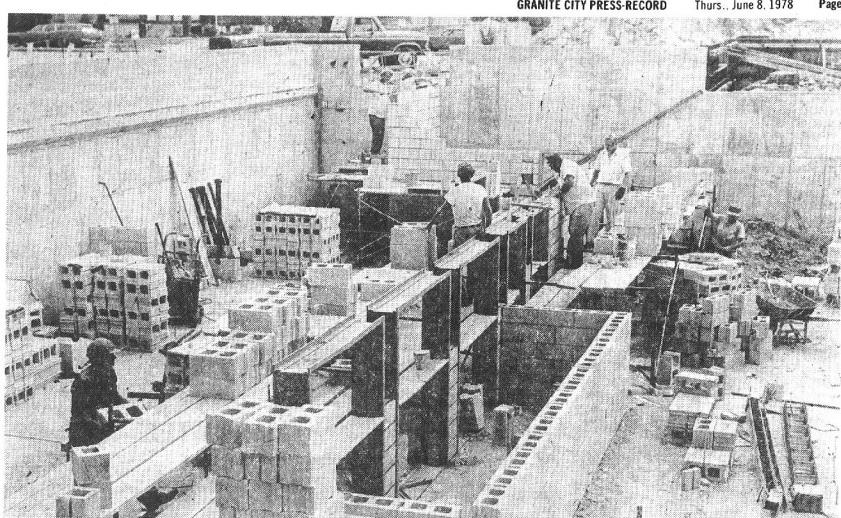

Golf and other competition will take place, with tees off from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. A dinner is planned for 7 p.m. Herman Schroeder is chairman.

Coin show, flea market on Sunday

The Land of Lincoln Coin Club will sponsor a flea market and coin show from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Madison Aves.

Admission is free. Club members will hold a general meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Nameoki Recreation Center.

Anyone interested in collecting coins or stamps is invited to attend, according to club officers. Membership dues for the club year are $2 per person.

INTERIOR WALLS of the Granite City Police Building basement are laid by masons last week. After the basement walls are finished, above-ground work will begin on the $900,000 structure. The building will have an exterior of brick which will complement the Post Office and main fire station which are adjacent to the new building on either side along Madison Ave. Target date for the completion of the building has been set for December this year.

Kids Krusade to start

Emmanuel's Muppets, a children's evangelism team from Belleville, will appear at the Community Heights Assembly of God, Faith and Destiny aves., starting Sunday and continuing each evening from 7 to 8 o'clock through Thursday, June 15.

The Kids Krusade team consists of Joe and Perry Siddle and Mike Graves, with their partners — 25 puppets and a robot. The program features skits, contests, prizes, songs and stories geared to today's children.

Realizing the need for children to understand the complex and confusing world of violence, drugs and broken homes, many are experiencing today, the Krusade members bring a timely message in their programs, the Rev. Jeff Smith, pastor, said this week.

Joe and Perry Siddle, brothers, attended Central College and Evangel College, both in Springfield, Mo., and Graves is one of the leading puppeteers in the country.

The trio has worked together for the past four years, appearing at crusades in church auditoriums, on school campuses and at youth meetings and seminars.

The public is invited to attend, the Rev. Smith said.

The 1926 and 1928 classes will be together today between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Madison.

Friday will be spent visiting friends, touring the school district and other attractions in the area such as the Arch.

On Saturday morning, fine day, the classes will hold a dinner and dance at the Madison Recreation Center, beginning at 6 p.m.

Damage construction trailer at hospital

Extensive damage was incurred to a trailer, parked inside a six-foot-tall chainlink fence at the construction site of the new St. Louis Hospital, it was reported Monday by Strange and Coleman contracting firm, East St. Louis, owners of the trailer.

The trailer exploded at the trailer, smashing all but three windows, damaging screens and denting the body, the firm representative said.

Wants junkets disclosed in advance

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau
Letting a little sun shine in on junkets might curb Congressional wanderlust, Rep.
Tom Corcoran, R-Ottawa, Ill., believes.

Corcoran has introduced legislation which would require members of Congress to submit a "fact-finding" mission to exotic locales.

Under his bill, a House member itching to travel would have to tell sponsoring committee members the legislative objectives to be attained, the planned itinerary and the proposed cost of travel and expenses.

A similar statement, detailing objectives realized, would be required upon his return. Additionally, Corcoran's bill would permit any member of the relevant committee to request a roll call vote on whether the proposed travel would be authorized.

"I am not saying every legislative trip is a bad trip," Corcoran said.

"But I do think a very high percentage of trips are more recreational than legislative in character.... I would not be surprised to find somewhere between a half and three quarters of the trips are more recreational than legislative."

Currently, a member's right to take a foreign trip needs the approval only of the committee chairman.

Costs of those trips—now reported only after the junket—are difficult to pinpoint. Although a law passed in 1976 requires the reporting of foreign travel expenses in the "Congressional Record," a weekly private publication.

The "CQ" noted that most of the trips reported are taken by military planes, adding $1 million to the travel costs reported in the record.

Being required to stand up in

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., June 8, 1978 Page 8 and report in advance on the costs should serve to dissuade many members from making the difficult-to-justify trips, Corcoran said.

A junketing member would have to be concerned that there would be somebody on the committee who would question the trip, and it could be a matter of public record, Corcoran noted.

"There also is a value in this 'sunshine approach' in that it would make the full committee accountable," Corcoran added.

Under the current system, if a member wants to make a trip sponsored by his committee, it is questioned about it, he has the simple "out" of saying he did not go and is not responsible.

Under Corcoran's bill, the committee member could be asked justifiably why he did not question or object to the proposed trip, Corcoran feels.

He says this approach might be used to get some of the "whistle-blowing" by members, something he has not seen so far in 16 months in Congress. "The only way to protect the public is to get this thing out in the open before they try to go," he emphasized.

Illinois has its share of well-financed congressmen, according to the "CQ" report on 1976 travel.

Rep. Ed Dervinski, R-Chicago, was among three congressmen who tied for "most traveled" honors with five trips apiece.

He made four foreign trips at government expense and one to the Far East at the expense of the World Anti-Communist League.

Dervinski makes no apologies. He has said he represents people who are a bit word but as a badge of honor."

In 1976, Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Rockford, made four foreign trips; Rep. Robert W. Kasten, R-Milwaukee, two; and Republicans Reps. John Erlenborn of Glen Ellyn and Paul Findley of Pittsfield each made one.

Supporters of Congressional foreign travel argue the trips are necessary to represent democracy abroad and to give members better insights into issues that confront them on the floor of Congress.

Corcoran does not quarrel with this position.

While he starts lining up co-sponsors for his bill, he will not be excluding some of the travelers.

He believes some of the travelers may be sympathetic to his approach.

"Those who take trips for legislative purposes do not want to be tarred with the same brush that those who abuse travel privileges," Corcoran said.

He compares advance travel disclosure requirements with existing requirements of Congressmen to disclose personal financial details and campaign fund-raising and spending.

Providing some light in advance on foreign trips, Congress may be able to improve its image and regain some lost public confidence, he concludes.

2 autos collide, damage third car

A collision on Madison Avenue at 23rd Street at 2 p.m. Monday, involved the southbound auto of Randy Strader, 30, of 2400 North Angela Drive, who was attempting to turn left, and Charles R. Hausman of Alton, who was operating a northbound vehicle.

Impact of the collision forced the Strader car into the third vehicle stopped for a traffic signal, on 23rd Street, facing west, operated by Mary A. Goode, 2944 Marshall Ave. Strader was charged with failure to yield the right of way on a left turn.

He was taken by City Ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, suffering a laceration on the upper lip and cheek. He had sutures taken to close the wound and was released after treatment.

Motorcycle hits wall, driver hurt

Fred V. Wicker, 29, of 2405 Delmar Ave., sustained multiple injuries to his chest and both knees when he lost control of the motorcycle he was riding north in the 2300 block of Delmar Avenue, at 11:40 p.m. Monday.

The Wicker, who left the roadway, struck a concrete wall at 2326 Delmar Ave., and continued on until hitting a tree.

Wicker was taken by City Ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had x-rays taken and was treated before being released.

The cyclist was charged with driving while his driver's license is suspended.

Chouteau studies plea for lighting

The Chouteau Town Board of Trustees decided Monday to take under advisement petitions from numerous township residents requesting street lights at Morrison Road and the Alton & Southern Railroad. A 16-year-old, 122-year-old woman was abducted and subsequently raped May 7.

Three women were waiting for a train to cross the dark crossing when a man forced them to disrobe and then shot a Caseyville woman in the right hand.

She and another Granite City woman were told to run from the scene, and the assailant was forced into a car and was taken to East St. Louis where she was raped, authorities were told.

Since Morrison Road is the dividing line between Nameoki and Chouteau townships, officials of both townships are being asked for help in obtaining lights at the crossing.

The town board voted to give the township's highway commissioner, Wilfred "Bud" Eberhardt, who is studying the issue, along with the trustees, the authority to appeal to Eberhardt, requesting that he make the intersection of Warnock Avenue and Morrison Road into a three-way stop. The three intersections currently has only a stop sign at Warnock dead-end at Morrison.

The county superintendent of highways, who must approve stop signs in townships, previously declined to approve stops on Morrison Road at that intersection.

In other business, the town board agreed to purchase a new electric bell for the firehouse, hall, which two funds are available. Prices on various models and suppliers are being gathered.

CAR GOES INTO DITCH

Kimberly Cox, age 19, of 1299 Rhodes St., was injured when her car swerved for an oncoming car on Horseshoe Lake Road, one-half mile east of Route 100. She then went into a ditch at 7:10 p.m. Tuesday. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for injuries to her head and neck and was released after X-rays were taken.

Court hears testimony in Finish Line arrest

Two developments affecting the status of the Finish Line Express horse race messenger service offices in Granite City and Venice occurred this week.

Tuesday, Associate Judge George Moran Jr. heard testimony on gambling charges against Finish Line Employee Queen Ester Dean, who has been arrested repeatedly in the Granite City office, and took the issue under advisement until he can hear all the pertinent evidence.

Today night, the Granite City Council voted to appeal to the Appellate Court at Mount Vernon a preliminary injunction which is keeping the office from closing the Granite City office under any city gambling ordinance.

Moran and Associate Judge Philip Rarick have differing opinions on the legality of Finish Line operations in Madison County in light of a ruling by the Appellate Court of a case which nullified a state law prohibiting such operations.

Rarick contend that the suit brought by the First Appellate Court, ruling allowing such operations in the Chicago area, unless there is an opposing decision in the Appellate Court District Headquarters in Mount Vernon.

Moran contended in his opinion that Finish Line Express operations are clearly criminal, and that they are illegal under all applicable provisions of the criminal code, including the provisions of the present case (gambling charges against Queen Ester Dean).

Moran's opinion was issued in rejecting a motion to dismiss the gambling charges against the employee while Rarick's opinion was issued the same day on a motion by Finish Line Express Attorney Robert Rice for the court to issue a permanent injunction against Finish Line offices. Rarick granted the request, issuing a court order which injunction which replaced a July 1 restraining order against the city. The injunction prohibits Granite City from enforcing any city ordinances against gambling or horse race messenger services, while the injunction against Venice also includes a section prohibiting police from using the state's gamblingordinance (Section 147.5, Statute 28) to close the office in Venice. Either city may act if the operations are found to be exceeding the scope of a horse race messenger service. It is stipulated.

Rarick is to call for a hearing in the near future to determine if the preliminary injunction should be made into a permanent injunction.

Meanwhile, the city council authorized City Attorney Lance Callis to appeal the preliminary injunction to the Appellate Court.

In the gambling case against Queen Ester Dean, violation of Chapter 38 (state law) is being alleged. There was only one witness who presented testimony Tuesday before Judge Moran and that was Grand City Police Detective Dan Knight.

It was stipulated by both the prosecution and the defense that evidence seized by police in the Granite City office was taken elsewhere and that the defendant was employed in the horse race messenger service office when arrested.

It is up to Moran to determine if she was violating sections of the state gambling code when arrested, sources indicated.

Given 364-day jail term

Charles Spink, 19, of 2037 Granite City Ave., has been sentenced to serve 364 days in the Vandalia Correctional Center after being found guilty by a jury of reckless conduct.

Spink first was charged with second-degree murder (murder) in the shooting and killing of Paul Saboff, 21, Edwardsville, at 1302 Twenty-third St., Dec. 1, 1977, but a jury subsequently found him guilty of the lesser offense of reckless conduct.

It is alleged Spink fired a shotgun through a window and into the home where Saboff was visiting, striking Saboff in the face and blinding him. Spink testified he did not mean to shoot anyone, but wished to frighten persons in the apartment who had called police about him during an earlier disturbance.

Streets

streets, and took steps to prepare still another program for asphalt overlays on streets that were particularly hard hit by damage due to last winter's cold weather.

Alderman Sam Whitmer asked that the Finance Committee provide an estimate as to the amount of money available in the motor fuel tax fund for "blacktopping" work in all of the city's seven wards.

"We have to get something started and started now," Whitmer said, noting "I would like to see some blacktopping this summer instead of New Year's Day."

After reviewing the $6.7 million improvement program of streets of major importance, it was decided an estimated cost had not been figured yet. This cost information will be brought to the council's attention at a later date, along with these figures.

Brewer said that in making the study "Every street was visually surveyed, after which the information was gathered and recorded and broken down into the cost per street by ward. The estimation of streets of major importance was based on an estimated cost that has not been figured yet. This cost information will be brought to the council's attention at a later date, along with these figures.

The largest amounts of street work are needed in Wards seven and four, according to the study. In upgrading the street network, improvements in Ward Four ($1,706,729) and in Ward Seven at $1,727,101.

Cost estimates in other wards include: Ward One, $927,968; Ward Two, $626,211; Ward Three, $437,961; Ward Five, $1,192,212 and Ward Six, $1,192.

Dave Nolan, engineering technician, said it is possible that some of these figures may be revised upward as more information is gathered and that it is likely the total estimate "will be closer to $7 million."

Brewer told the council "We tried to hit everything, including the upgrading of streets. This would be used as the basis of a program which could be developed for a 10 to 20 year span. I realize all this work cannot be done at any one time, but projects can be developed from this study from year to year."

The study was placed on file with only brief comment and virtually no discussion.

Alderman Roy Poules asked if the city would be eligible for money under a general program providing funds for repair of streets damaged by winter weather. Mayor Paul Schuler said he is certain the city would be eligible if such legislation eventually wins final passage.

Street sections for which cost estimates have not been completed include roadways considered as "major" streets Brewer said. These include roadways that are maintained by the city, maintained jointly by the city and state, and those maintained by the state.

Those maintained by the state include Nameoki Road, 20th Street and Madison Avenue, streets maintained by the city include Johnson Road, Maryville Road, St. Clair Avenue, Rock Road, Niedringhaus Avenue, Nameoki Street, Benton and the Benton and Peeling interconnect. Designated major streets maintained by both the city and state are Pontoon Road, East 23rd Street and Madison Avenue.

In subsequent action on a plan to initiate resurfacing (overlay) projects which would not involve major reconstruction or include curbs and gutters, the Alderman suggested that a system of improvements by wards should be worked out as it has in past years.

Witmer suggested "We do as we did in the past, put up $20,000 in some amount for each Ward and then map our projects."

Whitmer suggested that once the streets were designated and the amount of money determined, it might be possible for the city to save money by calling bids for bituminous mix spread on a per-ton basis. This also would speed up the program, Whitmer said.

Brewer explained, however, that the city cannot act on its own in projects involving motor fuel tax funds and that bidding for such work needs to be done through the state's Department of Transportation bidding system.

In addition, Brewer said, by motor fuel tax funds must be approved by the DOT before bids can be called. The ward improvements would be in addition to improvements suggested in the resolution passed Tuesday night, and would be in addition for work for which the $205,820 in motor fuel tax money was appropriated.

Alderman Warren Desatur noted the large amount of money involved in needed street improvements, asked council members why the city does not consider getting its own blacktopping machine and doing the work itself. City department employees thus spending only the amount needed for supplies.

Brewer told the aldermen that he has investigated such a possibility in the past and said such a program is not feasible because union officials consider paving as "new construction."

City employees may work on repairing and repairing, but may not undertake "new construction" under union rules, Brewer said.

Charles Douglas, alderman of Ward One, asked Brewer "to apply such inference" and said he does not believe union rules should have any effect on "what the city has to do."

"I don't even see why we should discriminate such a rule," Douglas said. "We should get our own machine and do our own work."

Mayor Schuler said he believed the city could acquire the machine and repair work to do the resurfacing work.

Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, said "it all boils down to the interpretation of whether such work is new construction or repairs."

Those interested in attending meetings may do so at the Wilson Park office starting today, bringing with them proof of residency in the district.

Arson probe in 4 fires

The Granite City Fire Department is investigating four possible acts of arson, all occurring between 11:45 a.m. and 1:10 p.m. Monday.

At 1:10 p.m. Monday, firefighters extinguished a blaze at the home of Mrs. Barbara Snell, 2548 Iowa St., where a bed and couch were damaged.

Mrs. Snell said someone set fire to foam rubber padding inside a single-bed couch, with the flames spreading to the rear padding of her garage. Estimated loss was $200.

Under investigation also is a fire at 1:35 p.m. Monday at the Alex French Apartments, 60 Main St., where the back of a garage and couch were found burning. Loss was estimated at $100.

Also being checked are the circumstances of a trash fire, possibly set against a garage at

Textbooks for summer quarter

Bids will be received at the city clerk's office until 2 p.m. Tuesday, June 20. Bid details and contract requirements may be obtained at the Venice City Hall.

The council also enacted an ordinance setting the speed limit on the McKinley Bridge at 30 miles per hour, with a fine, upon conviction, of not less than $25 or more than $500.

An ordinance regulating north-south traffic on Broadway where it intersects with Second street with "Yield" signs also was approved.

The council approved paying $1,000 to the Belleville Area Community College for the city's share of the senior citizen program. Venice has 19 senior citizens working in the program, which also is funded by the state government.

Thomas Fiedler, manager of the McKinley toll bridge, reported that traffic for May 1978 was 297,641 vehicle crossings, for a daily average of 9,886.

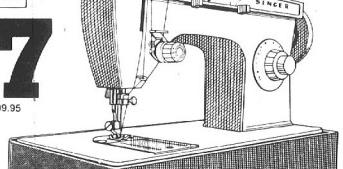

Fiedler also reported with increased traffic that bridge revenue also has increased greatly.

Lead poison awareness activities

The St. Louis Regional Lead Poisoning Advisory Council has announced that the week of June 11-17 will be "Lead Poisoning Awareness Week." The week's activities will include a number of efforts to increase public awareness of the extent of childhood lead poisoning.

Screening of children and testing of homes for lead-based paint will be increased during the week, and a public education program will be activated.

Lead poisoning in children can lead to brain damage, retardation, learning disabilities, kidney ailments and, in extreme cases, death.

The principal source for lead poisoning in children in this region is the ingestion by small children of lead-based paint flakes. Most houses built prior to 1960 contain lead paint, the Advisory Council says.

The council is a voluntary and independent committee of citizens which has been organized in recent years.

It has assumed coordination of the community response to what has been described as a "silent epidemic." During the year, the St. Louis area has the nation, having the largest number of children with the highest levels of body lead.

The St. Louis Regional Lead Poisoning Advisory Council is open to the public and will meet on Wednesday, June 21, at 3 p.m. in the board room of the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency, 915 Olive Street.

Hospitals cite cost reduction

Thirteen hospitals in Northwestern Illinois which have completed the first year in a group purchasing program report savings of over $400,000 in the cost of goods essential to their operation.

The hospitals bought more than 100 million dollars of food, business and medical supplies and housekeeping items.

The program was arranged through Illinois Hospital Joint Ventures, Inc., an affiliate of the Illinois Hospital Association, which contracted with Hospital Central Services, a shared service affiliate of the Chicago Hospital Council.

According to H. W. Argent, chairman of the board of the Illinois Hospital Association and president of Rockford Memorial Hospital, one of the participating hospitals, savings will help our hospitals in their continuing struggle to hold down the cost of health care in the face of rampant inflation."

Robert W. O'Leary, IHA president, said there is enthusiasm for the program, saying, "Hospitals of our state are committed to a voluntary program aimed at reducing the rate of increase in health care costs. The continued performance of this group purchasing concept will contribute significantly to that effort."

Three injured

A woman and two children were injured in a hit-and-run accident at Route 151 and Rock Road in Edwardsville.

Miss Lucretia Baker, 20, Edwardsville, said an auto passed her car and cut back into her lane, striking the front of her car. The other auto then left the scene.

A short time later, Madison County sheriffs deputies reported they stopped the auto of Richard Glassman, 20, St. Louis, about five miles north of the accident scene and officers examined the car. Glassman was charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Mrs. Baker and two children in her auto went to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where all were released after treatment. Mrs. Baker bumped her chest on the steering wheel.

Kimberly Bryant, 11, suffered stomach pains and Andre Bryant, 7, bumped his head in the accident.

Special education hearings

Public hearings on revised rules and regulations for special education programs and services will be held during the month of June. The hearings will be held by the State Board of Education in six different locations around the state.

The document, The Revised Rules and Regulations to Govern the Administration and Operation of Special Education, Draft II, has been developed by the professional staff of the Illinois Office of Education in conjunction with educators and administrators concerned with special education.

The rules and regulations will apply to all Illinois public elementary and secondary school facilities which provide special education programs. The revised document mainly reflects changes in the federal law governing special education (PL 94-142) as well as state legislation.

A review copy of the document is available at each of the State Board of Education program service centers located in Springfield, Mt. Vernon, Champaign, DeKalb and Chicago.

The review period extends through June 21, during which time the hearings will take place. Written and oral testimony, to be considered for possible inclusion in the final rules and regulations, is solicited for the public hearings. Hearings will be:

Friday, June 9 — Illinois Office of Education, 601 N. 18th St., Mt. Vernon, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday, June 12 — State of Illinois Building, Conference Room 1018, 180 N. LaSalle, Chicago, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Tuesday, June 13 — Triton College, College Center, Fireside Lounge, 2nd floor, River Grove, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Bus routes revamped

The routes of three Illinois bus lines will be affected Monday, June 12, as Bi-State Development Agency implements a series of improvements in its transit system.

Bi-State is adding trips, revising routes, and extending lines on 57 of its 161 bus lines in order to provide better service to Missouri and Illinois residents, a spokesman said.

Beginning June 12, the evening route of the Alton-St. Louis line in Illinois will be changed to coincide with the morning route. After crossing Eads Bridge, the morning and evening buses on this line marked "via Hwy. 111" will travel on Broadway to 3rd Street, E. St. Louis, where they will turn right and enter Interstate 55-70 eastbound.

The other eastbound trip crossing Eads Bridge will continue on the present route through Granite City, two round trips from Eads Plaza in Alton to Loretto and Central will also be added on this line.

The route of the Alta Vista line has been extended west on Church Lane past Intermediate Construction Church, to make a loop on 50th, Russell, 50th, Church Lane and Highway 157.

Service to the O'Fallon market and swimming pool will be resumed in the south end of the O'Fallon local line, with buses arriving eastbound at the pool at 11:30 a.m. and 1:07 p.m. weekdays, and 11:57 a.m. and 1:27 p.m. weekends. Westbound buses will arrive at the pool at 3:07 and 4:07 p.m. weekdays, and 3:04 and 4:52 p.m. on Saturdays.

The 7:39 a.m. and 8:20 a.m. trips from High Street to 46th and West Main in the Sesser-North Bell line will be replaced by an 8 a.m. departure. The 7:39 a.m. and 7:59 a.m. trips on the Benton-St. Louis line from St. Louis to 89th and State will also be eliminated.

Tickets available for benefit dance

Tickets still are available for a benefit dance for the Nameoki Area Volunteer Police unit to be held Saturday at VFW Post 1300 in Granite City.

Music will be furnished by Wayne Scannell and the Casuals. A $5 donation is being requested per person to help defray uniforms, maintenance and insurance costs on the department's squad car.

The police unit aids the sheriff's department in protecting Nameoki Township areas 3, 5, 6 and 11. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Mickey Garcia at 931-0116. Tickets also will be sold at the door.

Coolidge, Prather free summer school

Free summer school classes that began this week are still open for enrollment at Coolidge Junior High.

J. Davis announced today that additional students may still enroll at both schools. These classes, which will run for seven weeks until July 21, are funded by the federal government and involve no cost to the student or the school district.

Remedial reading classes are offered at Coolidge for students enrolled at that school last year for failing grades and students who will attend Coolidge September. Classes are one and a half hours, from 8:30 to 10 and from 10:15 to 11:45.

Parents interested in enrolling their children may contact the principal, Mike Sikora, at the school by calling 877-1512.

Remedial reading and mathematics classes are offered at Prather for students enrolled at Prather last year or sixth graders who will attend that school in September. Classes are one and half hours, from 8:30 to 10 and from 10:15 to 11:45. Parents may contact the principal, Calvin Bartels, at the school or by calling 876-8565.

The classes do not carry any credit and are intended only to help students improve basic skills.

This is first year for the program at Prather. A similar program was offered at Coolidge last year. No transportation is provided. Any additional questions are being answered by Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, at the Board of Education office. Rea is responsible for federally funded programs in the Granite City school district.

A student taking only reading and only mathematics attends for only the 90-minute session daily. Those studying both mathematics and reading are present from 8:30 to 11:45 each morning.

GED classes in Madison

Residents of Madison and Venice 18 years of age or older may earn their GED certificate (General Educational Development) if enough interest is indicated.

Persons interested in attending GED classes in the afternoon are being asked to contact Mrs. Alice Wiser between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays at 876-8435.

In addition to the age requirement, the person's normal high school class must have graduated.

GED is considered by many as an alternative to a high school diploma.

The classes are a joint venture of the Madison County Manpower Program and the Madison Coordinated Youth Services.

There's an Answer!
by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stratford Peale

Curb temper

Q. What causes me to become so enraged whenever I find out that my teenage daughter and my wife have lied to me or excluded me from conversations?

W. I'm afraid that's me too. I do the same thing every time they disagree with me, don't do as I suggest them, or even when I become tense.

I get so angry, I curse and blurt out things I later regret.

I really love them and live with a constant fear that something bad might happen to those closest to me.

You are quite right that your temper can damage loved ones and destroy your health.

The solution is very simple. Learn to control yourself.

You do not need to become enraged over it. Take charge of yourself. Curb your anger.

Practice and master mental and emotional thought control. You can govern your temper if you make up your mind to do it. You don't have to be headed for real unhappiness.

We have a booklet, Self-Improvement Handbook, which helped others with problems such as yours, and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone wishing a free copy should write to us in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Q. My best friend's 19-year-old granddaughter is pregnant. The man responsible doesn't want her in marriage. The family is in a terrible predicament.

How do I respond to the situation? I can't send the family a sympathy card, nor the girl a get-well card. I'll be embarrassed when I meet them.

Now, I find out that my own 18-year-old granddaughter is in the same predicament. It really makes me hurt all over. I don't know how to treat her, either.

If I accept her and though everything is fine and dandy, why would the grandchildren think it's all right to have sex outside of marriage?

A. In a situation such as you describe, your personal embarrassment is a matter of minor importance. The main problem centers around your friend's granddaughter and your own granddaughter.

Our suggestion is not to be soft on the girl, certainly not to act as if everything was fine and dandy.

But don't withdraw your love from her. And certainly do not minimize her actions to the other grandchildren.

Try loving her back into a right life pattern.

Q. My husband left town with a younger woman without telling me or any of the family. After a few months, he wanted back and did come back.

But now he says he wants to see her again. We have had a full and happy 25 years of marriage with four children who have never been in trouble.

"They have been some pretty bad financial times and some tough illnesses, but we always had each other and lots of love. Maybe I let him down — with working, the kids, the house and all to do.

Can I make him happy again? I love him so and he has given me so much. Is there a trick to bringing a man back?

A. We've got to answer you pretty forthrightly. This wandering husband of yours may have gotten tired of having wife. He may have decided down that she didn't have time to be romantic, desirable and shall we say, even sexy.

At this present time he seems to be in a state of vacillation between you and the other woman. This means that he wants you and his family but he also wants something that you don't supply.

If you really want him back, could be you'd better change your priorities and put loving him number one. That is the trick.

If there's something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564. If you would like to talk directly with a prayer partner, call Prayer Line (212) 481-1050. Reduced long-distance rates are in effect nights and weekends.

Workshop on candidates requirements

Evelyn M. Bowles, county clerk of Madison County, announced Wednesday that a workshop will be held Wednesday, June 21, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., at the Lincoln Land Community College, Lincoln Hall, Classrooms 1 and 2, at Springfield, Ill., to inform candidates, political committees and interested citizens as to filing requirements under the Illinois Campaign Financing Act.

Miss Bowles said: "It is important in this election year that everyone running for office remembers to file campaign contribution reports and what information should be included. We want to help everyone so that the law is followed in every respect."

The workshop will be administered with the assistance of the Illinois State Board of Elections.

The main topic to be discussed will be the proper completion of annual reports of campaign contributions and expenditures, as well as finalization procedures.

The workshop will be one of six held throughout the state beginning June 21 and running through June 28. The public is invited to attend.

New Athens loses

SPRINGFIELD — New Athens High School's baseball team, coming off a one-hit performance by mound ace Mike Worth, again suffered yesterday afternoon, fell to Providence New Lenox here last night in the championship game of the first-ever two-class State Association (IHSA) Class A (small school) baseball tournament.

It was the second appearance ever for New Athens' Yellowjackets, who also advanced to the championship game in their state tournament. In 1948 they lost to a Joe Federa-coached Granite City squad.

New Athens thus ends the season with a 28-4 record. Its final record is 19-15.

In yesterday's semi-final game against Peoria, Worth allowed only a bunt-single by Vienna's David Carlton in the bottom of the fourth. The game was called after five innings because of the 10-run rule with New Athens taking the victory, 11-0.

The championship will be played at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

This is Belleville East's second straight trip to the opening round. The Lancers also lost in the first round in the 1975 tournament.

Liz Astroth named IHSA director

BLOOMINGTON — Lizzy L. (Liz) Astroth, a former coach, athletic director, school administrator, athletic official — and since 1967 an assistant executive secretary — has now joined the fourth executive secretary in the 30-year history of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) by the board of directors Monday at its meeting in the IHSA Office.

Astroth, 57, will succeed Harry Fitchugh, who will retire June 30. Fitchugh served 10 years as the Association's chief administrator.

In addition, the board named H. Dan Fry to the newly-created post of Associate Executive Secretary. Fry, who joined the IHSA staff also in 1967, has been serving like Astroth as an assistant executive secretary. Both will assume their new positions July 1, 1978.

Astroth, a native of Roxana, where he was a standout football, basketball and baseball player when he attended Wood River High School, graduated from the University of Illinois, and was a member of the Fighting Illini football and basketball teams, including quarterback on the last team coached by the immortal Bob Zuppke in 1941. Twice Astroth played in the College All-Star Football Game sponsored each summer by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Astroth first coached football, basketball and baseball at Hepperton High School after his graduation from Illinois. His experience included coaching his team twice advanced to the sectional championship game only to lose to the powerful Perry Coaches coached teams of Champaign High School. He then became basketball and baseball coach at Urbana High School. In 1953 he became head baseball coach at Glenbard West High School. When the Glenbard system expanded in 1958, he became athletic director and then assistant principal of Glenbard East High School. In August of 1967 he was named an IHSA assistant executive secretary, and his responsibilities included boys' athletic activities: football, soccer, basketball, wrestling, baseball and track & field.

Fry, 37, has been responsible for the IHSA's public relations, the Association's speech, music and chess non-athletic activities, and the boys sports programs in cross country, tennis, golf, swimming and gymnastics.

A native of Conrad, Montana, and a former teacher and speech coach at North Chicago and Skokie (North West) High Schools, he also served on the IHSA staff in August of 1967. He currently is a member of the National Federation of State High School Associations national Speech Advisory Committee. He is also an IHSA swimming rules interpreter.

Illinois grapplers tame Missouri all-stars, 36-7

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — In conditions more appropriate to snow than a gymnasium, a team of wrestling all-stars from high schools on the Illinois side of the St. Louis area defeated a similar team from Missouri at the South High School gym soundly Saturday night, 36-7.

The muggy spring weather combined with a brief shower before the start of the match resulted in a rather warm atmosphere for wrestling.

THE ILLINOIS SQUAD, coached by former Granite City North wrestler Kris Whelan, lost only two bouts and had only things in control throughout the night.

The match was held to benefit the children of Tom Sparks, a former Granite City wrestler who has had health and financial difficulty. Whelan won his bout, 21-1 and the Illinois stars had an easy time of it, winning the match, 36-7.

"There really wasn't a whole lot of coaching to it," said a happy Whelan. "We just got together and worked out, but these guys have their own styles and had to be pretty good to get them to first place."

Kris Whelan, with some authority. He and his younger brother, Kris, a recent graduate of North, have signed to wrestle next year at the University of Missouri in Columbia.

Keith wrestled last season for Florissant Valley Junior College in St. Louis.

THE EVENING had decided to look about it.

Keith's brother, Kris, was Keith's coach. Kris wrestled at 125 pounds, younger brother Bob at 93 pounds, and father Bob Whelan spent the evening roaming the arena after "supervising" the entire affair.

The youngest of the Whelans, Pat, started the match out with a 9-9, 93 pound victory over Craig Martin from DeSmet.

North's Gerald Miller spent the three periods of intent to blanked his opponent from Pattonville's Doug Anderson at 102.

tonville's Mark Finklang, to the tune of 14-3.

At 113 pounds, Dave Harris of Belvidere West had come from behind with a reversal in the final period, but defeated John Beaudoin from Ritenour 6-

Kris Whelan appeared at times to be toying with his opponent, Keith Kemon from Pattonville. Always in charge, but content to sit back and give the fans a good show, Whelan easily downed Kemon, 21-1.

North's Al Klemmer was the first wrestler of the match to pin his brother, Pat. He did it to Pattonville's Shawn Griggs at 3:22 in their 134-pound bout.

Granite City's Sam Williams of Normandy gave the Missouri stars their first points of the match at 165 pounds, defeating John Glenn of St. Louis.

Clay Brueggman of Roxana fell in his 178 pound bout to Sheppard Pittman of Beaumont High.

Granite City's Don King pinned his opponent at 191 pounds, Derek Huggins of Beaumont to give the Illinois stars their final points of the meet.

In the unlimited weight division, Dan Lueders of East St. Louis, weighing in at 300 pounds, took on Terry Jasper of St. Louis Northwest High, who tipped the scales at 350 pounds. Lueders, training at the time, pinned Jasper with a reverse and Jasper at the 1:18 mark of the third period to give the Illinois stars their final points of the meet.

Painter, Goodyear pick BAC

GRANITE CITY — Two former members of Granite City's soccer team, Eric Painter and Jim Goodear, have announced they will attend Belleville Area College and become members of the soccer team.

Belleville Area College (BAC) coach Mike Moore feels that the addition of Painter and Goodear will add more depth to his Dutchmen squad.

"Painter is a good striker, which something we've been lacking," said Moore. "And Goodear is one of the most hard-working players I've ever seen. He may not be blessed with great natural ability as some other players, but he's a real hustler and the kind of all-around gutsy player I like like him."

Painter and Goodear are the two signers of intent at BAC this spring. They join three Dutchmen returning from Granite City's junior team and Mike Voggie from South and Tom Carden from North.

BAC's soccer team finished last season with a 9-7 record and was eliminated in the sectional finals by Lewis and Clark

JUCO. At the time Lewis and Clark was ranked seventh in the nation by the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA).

"It's been our best recruiting year ever," said Moore. "In the past, we've had the front line talent, but not the depth to give us the edge.

"I think we've added that dimension to our club with this recruiting year."

Besides Painter and Goodear, Collinsville's Greg Koenigsmith, Gary Wallace and Marty Barnett have signed letters of intent to play at BAC next fall.

Mabrey to SIU-E

Matthew Mabrey, an outstanding wrestler and soccer player at St. Louis Riverview Gardens High School, has signed with the Cougars' football team. They join three Dutchmen returning from Granite City's junior team and Mike Voggie from South and Tom Carden from North.

The Cougars' coach, Larry Kristoff, made the announcement.

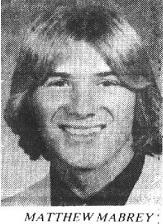

"He's a good one," said Kristoff.

From junior high through his sophomore, junior and senior years, Mabrey posted good records: wrestling at 112 pounds, he was 11-1; at 119 pounds as a sophomore, he posted a 9-13-2 mark; as a junior in the 126-pound event, he was 15-9-3, and as a senior at 132 pounds, he came through with a 13-2 record.

Among tournaments won by Mabrey in prep competition were: first in the Missouri state tournament at 132 pounds last year, and as a junior, the district title. He also won the district title as a junior at 126 pounds.

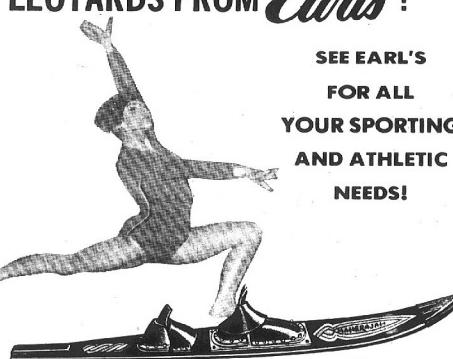

In soccer, Mabrey was team captain all four years and was named honorable mention on the all-conference team.

A long haul . . .

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — For a girl who has had the opportunity to compete on a high school gymnastics team Granite Cityan Jo Aerne hasn't done too badly for herself.

Aerne, competing as a sophomore on the Northern Illinois University gymnastics team, was chosen as the Most Valuable Gymnast in a vote by her teammates at the end of the season.

She got her start in gymnastics in the Granite City Park District's gymnastics and tumbling programs. High school gymnastics wasn't a sport until this past spring in Granite City.

COMPETING all-around (in every event at a meet), Aerne said she wanted to be good in everything she did at a gymnastics meet. "I went from year to intermediate from the beginning team and it was quite a step," she said. "Now, I'm able to pick and choose my own events. I love all the events."

THE FOUR EVENTS involved in gymnastics mostly are floor exercise, balance beam, vaulting and the uneven parallel bars.

"Next year, I'm going to have to specialize in one or two events," Aerne said. "The reason is that Northern's goal is to be moving up in its level of competition, facing teams like Southern Illinois (Carbondale) and the University of Illinois. That's a big time."

Aerne, an art education major at NIU, said she likes the area around DeKalb, but it's quite a bit different from what she's used to.

"It's cold," said Aerne. "And the wind. It's a lot windier than Chicago in DeKalb."

AS MUCH AS she loves gymnastics, Aerne said she went to NIU mainly for its art department. "That's why I've up there mainly," she said. "I'd like to teach art and coach a little gymnastics on the side if I could."

Aerne's grades won't be the reason if she doesn't succeed. She has a 3.48 grade-point average on a 4.0 scale. "I'm proud of it," she said. "I'm involved in two of the most time-consuming activities on campus...art and gymnastics."

LONG HOURS of practice and patience are necessary ingredients for a successful gymnast, according to Aerne. "I'm really sort of an old lady," she said. "I'm a family person. I am," she said. "Comparing myself to some of the girls who went to high school in Northern Illinois, I'm kind of behind them."

WE'RE PRETTY scared at first," said Aerne of the extra hard time, but she's been named Northern Illinois University's MVP.

"Gymnastics has been an established sport at high schools up north for a long time," Aerne said. "It's hard to keep up with it."

Aerne is spending her summer doing something she loves, teaching gymnastics. She's teaching at the Tri-Cities YMCA beginning this Monday, June 12, with a former member of Granite City South's first gymnastics team, Lala Anselmo.

"I'M GRATEFUL to have the opportunity to teach at the Y," Aerne said. "I'm really sort of an old lady," she said. "I'm a family person. I am," she said. "Comparing myself to some of the girls who went to high school in Northern Illinois, I'm kind of behind them."

GRANITE CITY — When school opens next fall at Granite City South High, there'll be three extra-happy people on the coaching staff: Don Miller, Stan Woycik and Schellie Abbott.

The person the South coaches (Miller is the track coach, Woycik coaches football and Schellie is the track and wrestling coach) is twofold. Miller and Schellie Abbott just completed their eighth grade at Coolidge Junior High School and will enroll at South next school year. They are also two of the most popular track and wrestling prospects to come along in quite a while.

NIEBUR is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Niebur of 14 Miami Court in Granite City. Abbott's parents are L.D. and Ellen Abbott of Granite City.

Competing on the Coolidge track team, the two youths broke five records and tied one. They were also on the school's varsity relay team along with teammates Keith Shable and Jim Wyratko.

Niebur and Shable's coach at Coolidge, Keith Parker, is one of the proudest junior high coaches around. "I'm very proud of both of these young men," he said. "They're very hard workers and have put a lot of time and effort into their activities, which they take very seriously."

NIEBUR was more prolific of the two when it came to record-breaking at Coolidge. He broke the all-time scoring record at Coolidge with 100 points set by Don Keehl. Niebur scored 156 points in 11 meets.

Niebur also has a record of 10 feet, 1 1/2 inches set in the Mile High meet in 1976.

The mile relay team was undefeated in 11 meets and had a best seasonal performance of 9:59.

"NORMALLY we don't like to test our own horns very loudly about junior high athletes," said Parker. "But in the case of these two guys, I could talk all day."

In addition to track, both Abbott and Niebur played on the Coolidge football team. Niebur was also a member of the school's wrestling squad.

WHEN IT COMES to athletes in the junior high school ages, coaches have to be creative, to push them too hard, according to Parker. "Their bodies haven't developed completely yet at that age," said Parker. "Therefore, a coach can't expect to make out of a boy in the eighth grade as he can out of one who's senior in high school or senior in college."

ABBOTT was no slouch himself. He set a record in the low hurdles with a time of :14.6.

His leap of 36 feet, five inches tied him for record.

The mile relay team was undefeated in 11 meets and had a best seasonal performance of 9:59.

"But these two boys, as well as every other boy who goes to school in this district, get real fine coaching, I feel, in every sport."

You can bet there are three coaches in the district in particular who are licking their chops about getting a chance to coach Abbott and Niebur.

Postal workers offered 'peanuts,' leader says

Birkie Hillis, president of the Gem Area Local of the Granite City, Madison, Alton, East Alton, Edwardsville and Bethalto.

Hillis said his effort to reduce postal wages before national negotiations for a new contract "is trying to combat inflation by paying us [postal workers] peanuts."

The Gem Area Local includes

In a statement, Hillis said: "While prices continue to soar we are being jawboned to ask for peanuts in wages, despite a record increase in our productivity."

"We are the victims of inflation, not the cause of it—and we are also victims of a cynical decision to zero in on us as the scapegoat for inflation," he said. "It is time to use the exact words of the President's new adviser on inflation, Mr. Robert Strauss."

"It is also ironic that Dr. Barry Bosworth, who heads the Wage and Price Stability Council is one of the elite White House staffers whose salary was raised to $60,000 a year just before the Big Push against wages was kicked off at our expense."

Hillis said that the May 20 report in Washington by Bosworth designed to prove that postal workers had it so good has already boomeranged. He added:

"Using Bosworth's figures from his so-called report, we can demonstrate three key facts to refute his findings:

- "The average of 6.5 percent in wage increases I have achieved during which the last three years of our current contract is substantially smaller than the average of 8.3 percent since early 1974."

"The White House can jawbone and exhort us until it is blue in the face," he concluded, "but nothing will happen until it encloses the real demons—the demands for changing the structure of prices in America. Then, and only then, will wage settlements start to level off."

Light one candle —to test drafts

Foolproof ways to save money. Where else can you get in line? Wait for the free "Light a Candle" booklet. A "lighted candle" test is just one example included of simple ways to become aware of how a home might be losing energy and costing money.

Extension offices in 21 counties throughout the state, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Energy, are making "Tips" and other publications available at their offices for a program to encourage residential energy conservation.

Protecting the home from outside heat and cold with adequate insulation is the formula. In the 16-page booklet, "Lighted candle" test is just one example included of simple ways to become aware of how a home might be losing energy and costing money.

Also included in the booklet are examples of ways to save energy in the use of heating and cooling equipment and hot water heaters.

Also, there are tips for reducing energy consumption in the kitchen, laundry and bath.

Excess sun may lead to skin cancer

If you are Irish, British, Scandinavian or of Northern European decent, soaking up too much sun may lead to skin cancer. So, the advice of the experts is to use a good sun screen.

"Fair-skinned people run a greater risk of skin cancer if they chronically expose themselves to the sun," according to Virgil Weiss, M.D., assistant professor of dermatology at the University of Illinois Medical Center, Chicago.

"Cancer can exposure also wrinkles and age the skin rapidly," Dr. Weiss added. "Sun screens offer good protection, but some fair-skinned people who use them can still get burned."

The sun screens that offer the best protection are those products that contain PABA (Para-aminobenzoic acid). "PABA is very good at absorbing the burning rays of the sun," Dr. Weiss said. "One can still tan with PABA, but very slowly."

Even with the use of sun screens, Dr. Weiss suggests that fair-skinned people avoid prolonged sun exposure from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., when the sun's rays are most dangerous.

The oil of baby oil is no help whatsoever to the fair-skinned sunburner, she warns: "Baby oil offers no protection, and may even cause a heat rash." Developing a tan can help protect against the damaging effects of the sun, according to Dr. Weiss. The dark pigment of the skin, melanin, absorbs the sun's ultraviolet light and prevents burning.

"Naturally dark pigmented people, especially blacks, have very little risk of developing skin cancer," Dr. Weiss noted. "But, dark-skinned people cannot as easily penetrate to the center layers of skin and damage or age the skin as it can for fair-skinned people."

"For those who fail to take precautions and do get a sunburn, cool compresses, lotions and light creams have the most soothing effect."

"Avoid using heavy creams or Vaseline," Dr. Weiss warned. "These are painful to apply and actually hold the heat in the skin."

"Certain topical anesthetic spray products provide temporary relief from sun, but they may also cause a rash and increase the discomfort."

Transit planning questioned; new, widened roads endorsed

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's board of directors, after hearing from the Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA), is requiring additional studies of St. Louis' proposed transit plan before the Federal agency voted last week not to concede to the new federal requirements until St. Louis receives assurances of financial support from the federal agency.

Richter, executive director of East-West Gateway, said Gateway is not willing to expend more money and time on the transit plan until the U.S. can demonstrate it is willing to abide by the results of its own requirements.

Richter said, "We've been working on a transit plan here for almost three years; we've spent a million and a half dollars."

"The studies required by the federal agency will cost about $1.5 million and will take three to four years to complete," Richter said. The board's position does not constitute a final policy, he said, but indicated that, for example, light rail is feasible in the St. Louis area.

He said, "They want us to make this investment of time, which is a large amount of money — all with no commitment as to whether they'll fund the transit system."

Richter added that, while additional work may be needed to insure wise use of limited local and federal tax dollars, "it would be better to have a plan to study this issue in more detail unless we are reasonably certain that we will be able to implement the proposal."

All that's asking for is for the program that when we've completed all of these researches, there's going to be some federal money available to St. Louis to implement. Right now we have no such indication."

The board voted to send a letter to UMTA Administrator Richard Price, stating the board's position.

If no commitment of support for implementation is forthcoming from the federal agency, the board will consider alternative highway corridor options.

The program is a list of improvements proposed by the Missouri State Highway Department, the Missouri Department of Transportation and the various local jurisdictions through 1983.

The document is updated annually.

There are 633 road improvement projects listed, totaling $1.2 billion.

Projects slated for the 12-month period beginning July 1, 1978, total $41.6 million.

This year's program emphasizes the completion of interstates and major freeway systems throughout the metropolitan region. It includes:

Completion of I-270 from the Missouri state line east and north to I-65-70 in Madison County.

The extension of I-270 northward through Madison County to Illinois Supplemental Freeway 413.

The completion of Route 409 in St. Clair County to replace U.S. Route 50 from Illinois Route 1 eastward to the Clinton County line.

Beginning of construction on an Inner Belt (Route 725) extension in St. Louis County from Missouri Route 140 to St. Louis northward to I-270.

With the emphasis on completion and improvements to existing networks, the TIP for the 1978-79 fiscal year also includes reconstruction and widening of existing routes, such as:

The section of I-70 between Forest Park and St. Louis County and Cave Springs Road in St. Charles County.

U.S. Route 40 between Illinois Route 120 and the Clinton County line.

Beginning of construction on an Inner Belt (Route 725) extension in St. Louis County from Missouri Route 140 to St. Louis northward to I-270.

In addition, improvements to existing locally-administered roadways to complement the regional system are programmed.

In another action, the Gateway board forwarded comments to the Missouri State Highway Department on the proposed North South Distributor statement for a proposed North South Distributor (Route 755) in St. Louis.

As an action affecting Madison County, the board endorsed an application by the City of Alton for a $3.18 million Urban Development Action (UDA) program.

The federal funds, distributed through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, would be used in the Alton downtown redevelopment program to provide physical improvements in the central business district, Alton's Landmark, the east end and the west end.

The Gateway board also approved a contract with the Village of Hartford and Madison County.

Gateway will provide assistance on highway safety projects to inventory and upgrade the traffic signs and pavement markings in the area to bring them into conformance with Illinois standards.

The board also:

1. Endorsed a UDA application by the City of Centreville for construction of sanitary sewer extensions.

2. Endorsed a Section 3 Clean Air Assessment by Bi-State Development Agency for renovations of new advanced highway road projects in Des Peres, Mo.

3. Endorsed the use of Federal Aid Urban System funds for the Alton project.

4. Approved a contract with St. Charles County, Mo., for a land use and housing study.

Lemonade nets $166 for hospital

Children of Schnuck's Market employees in Granite City held a "kids for kids" lemonade sale during the weekend in the sale at the Nameoki Road and raised $166 for St. Louis Children's Hospital.

The store donated the lemonade to the children, who then ran the stand from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., giving a free glass of cold lemonade for a donation to the hospital.

Children running the event were Scott Moore, Don and Greg Kalmayer and Jeff and Greg Bader.

Charge boy, 15, obstructed police officers

Youngsters residing in the Granite City Park District may attend the sessions without charge. The only expense is a $3 fee for the instruction.

All participants in park district programs, under 19 years of age, are required to obtain insurance which protects the park and children in case of injury.

The insurance is $5 deductible and remains in effect until April 30, 1979.

Hours will be 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"We have special events at each center will be announced as the program progresses," Miss Nancy Polson, recreational director, advised.

A 15-year-old Granite City boy charged with obstructing police officers during the apprehension of Jimmy Lee Miller, 17, of 2015 W. 22nd St., at 2:35 p.m. May 21 at Rock and Nevada Avenue.

Miller was being sought on felony warrant charging him one count of burglary and one count of theft over $150, and on a warrant alleging failure to appear on traffic charges involving having no driver's license and no valid registration.

The felon was issued on Feb. 2, 1978, and officers were searching for him in the vicinity of 31st Street and Ohio Avenue, when they went to a concrete block building on Rock Road.

The 15-year-old boy opened the door and when asked who was inside the building, he answered "Nobody," it was alleged.

Officers turned himself in to Madison police after learning he was being sought on the warrants. The state charge stemmed from an incident occurring May 31 at Sixth Street and McCampbell Avenue, Madison.

The complaint was signed by Rebecca Morse, 1411 Rhodes St., Granite City, and the warrants were issued over the signature of Assistant State's Attorney Casper Nighobosian.

Purposed of the study was to determine what contractors and users of the construction industry

Link contractor outlook to government funding, streamlined procedures, attracting new industry

during the area perceive as its problems, possible solutions to those problems, and the outlook for the industry.

Questionnaires were sent to a sample of members of the Southern Illinois Builders Association, St. Clair County Home Builders Association and Madison County Home Builders Association.

Most decisions regarding construction activity are made in this area and are financed from retained earnings and tax revenues, the research noted in a study released by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsburg.

Contractors participating in the study indicated that the link between the construction trades range from satisfactory to good. However, they said construction costs could be reduced and efficiency improved, not for certain projects.

Customs called to slow down production and increase construction costs include non-working overtime; managing non-stop work; cutting workers; missed starting and quitting times; lengths of lunch and coffee breaks, and late arrival from firing halls; and changing work crews without leaving the jurisdiction of one local and entering that of another local or the same craft with working on a single project.

Some referral systems are called inadequate because of "failure to provide sufficient labor with the skills required to complete project on time and cost effectively," the study said. In other cases, it was alleged, excessive staffs report for work.

Contractors said they feel the government regulations and insurance rates significantly increase construction costs.

The study indicated that users of the Southern Illinois construction industry generally think the level of work performed by area contractors is satisfactory.

Problems reported by users were mainly related to those cited by contractors, including failure of contractors to complete projects on time, project costs exceeding estimates, and inability of contractors to obtain decent skilled labor to complete projects on time.

The future of the building industry in Southern Illinois is not promising, the report says. The economists voiced concern that the construction industry would appear to depend, therefore, upon the level of federal and state funding of potential government projects in the area.

The study recommends that more be done to attract private industry to the area.

Mark Green at Fort Sill

Mark Green, 28, of Rural Route One, Box 100, has enlisted in the U.S. Army and left here May 30 to report at Fort Sill, Okla.

Fort Sill, Private Green presently is taking an eight-week basic training course and will attend Advanced Individual Training School for seven weeks.

Prospects for construction in the private sector are called less promising.

"Industrial growth in the region has been slow, and the demand for new housing has been spotty, partly because population growth since 1970 has been small," it was asserted.

The economists said that major manufacturing construction is likely to be associated with expansion at Granite City Steel and a

Kachigian in opera; 9th season to open

Opera in the Barn will open its ninth season on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 16 and 17, at 8:15 p.m. in its rustic, rural setting near Greenfield.

Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be presented, with its tragic tale tangled by a follow-up, "The Red Death," a modern work composed by Robert Rignani and based on Edgar Allan Poe's "The Masque of the Red Death."

"The modern mood of the latter work is apparent from the entrance of unreal, unfriendly characters upon a nebulous stage, as well as from the first dissonant chords of the orchestra's accompaniment." However, curiously mixed into this web are excerpts of sheer melodic beauty," a spokesman said.

"The characters are more contrast to the Mascagni work, where real, lifelike characters experience love, hate and terror."

"Santuzza" is sung by Lou Simon (Alton) and Petty Baltzer (St. Louis). Mama Lucia by Mary Ann Brickey (Jesseyville), Lola by Patty Messick (Alton), Turridy by Robert Rignani (St. Charles), and Alfredo Amerik Kachigian (Gratine City).

"Along with villagers and dancers, they conspire to bring this fiery opera to realism to life."

"In the Red Death, Prince Prospero will be sung by Michael Christy (St. Louis), Princess Elektra by Etelia Long (St. Louis), the troubadour Robert Rignani (St. Charles) and David Landphere (Alton), the mother by Mary Ann Brickey (Jesseyville), the square by Sam Vible (Godfrey) and Mama Lucia by Kathy Jurgens (Alton).

"Dancers from the Mary Ann Brickey School of Dance (Jesseyville), villagers and dinner guests complete the roster for this four-medieval work scenes of which are set in a village near a castle, in the banquet room of the castle and in the black room of the castle."

Musical director and director for both works is Kaye Shanahan, known to Madison County and St. Louis audiences for her work with the Opera at the Barn and for her early collaboration with the Central Opera Co. of St. Louis, the Midwest Opera Co. of St. Louis and the Fine Arts Opera Co. of Chicago.

The Kaye Shanahan Children's Grand Opera Company performed not only its own completed operas but also served as chorus in choruses performed by various companies in St. Louis, including the New York City Center and the Metropolitan Opera.

The audience laws lawn chairs and sweaters and proceeds north on Route 267 to Greenfield, turning west on Sycamore Street, through the heart of the village square, and following an all-weather road which after four miles makes a sweeping curve north.

After another mile to the Wrights' cedar log cabin, visitors turn east for a half-mile to the rustic, 108-year-old barn theater.

Tickets are $3.50. A child is admitted at the gate for $1 when accompanied by an adult ticket buyer. Senior citizens may request a $1 seating area.

Vacation tips is chapter program

The Tri-Cities National Soroptimist International Association held their monthly dinner meeting at Ponticello's Italian Garden in Spanish Lake, Mo. Mrs. Beverly Wilcox, formerly employed with Pan American Airlines was the guest speaker. She is now a KIWI saleswoman.

Mrs. Wilcox demonstrated packing and unpacking a suitcase for a two week trip. She advised you not to pack too much and to use lead bags to protect damage by X-ray machines. She also advised that your name and business address be on the luggage bag outside in case you decide to visit your home while you're away.

Inside, tack your itinerary to the suitcase in case your luggage is lost. A few travelling tips: carry small packets of insect repellent, a hand held hair dryer, with all liquids in plastic bottles to avoid seepage. Scotch tape, a clothes line and inflatable hangars are also useful night time necessities.

Newly installed president, Joyce Savich, called the meeting to order, treasurer's report was given and Adrienne Reiter read the chapter's correspondence.

The new officers for 1978-79 were installed and during this installation ceremony, Gail Foley, CPS, retiring president, was presented with a past chapter's diamond pin. Members of NSA will be participating in Bunker Hill's Frontier Days on Saturday evening, June 17. Their booth will feature homemade articles and miscellaneous items.

The chapter members and guests will tour the Muny Opera on July 12, prior to dinner and the performance of "Man of La Mancha," the president announced.

The Illinois Division meeting held in Rockford, May 19-21, was hosted by the Hononegan Chapter was attended by seven members of the Tri-Cities Chapter.

WHEN YOU WANT A SUPERMARKET THAT PER-FORMS... TRI-CITY IS THE ONE THAT DOESN'T CLOWN AROUND
WHEN IT COMES TO FRESH MEATS!

"Barbecue Bonanza"

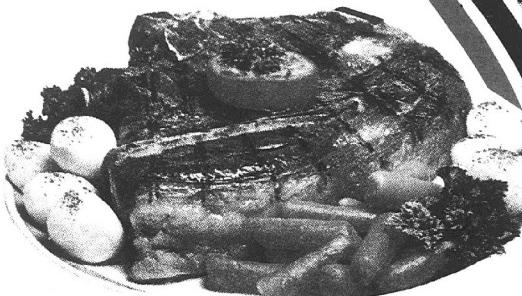

Once again it is that time of year when we all want to spend as much time outdoors as possible, and that includes the time spent cooking and eating. And who can resist the aroma of a juicy steak or even a hot dog sizzling over an open flame?

And talk about convenience... whole dinners, even dessert, can be prepared on the outdoor grill. Whether you have a small hibachi or a double gas grill, we are sure that the special group of recipes we have prepared for you this week will suit your barbecuing needs as well as your taste buds. Be sure to pick up your free copy of our favorite barbecue treats this week at your nearby Tri-City Supermarket.
